Verbal fMRI Recall Instructions

In this part of the experiment I want you to tell each of the stories back to me, and please try to tell the stories from start to finish and with as many details as possible.
As soon as the Title, Character names, and character images appear on the screen you can start.
When you've finished recalling all that you can remember about the story you can press, the first button on the button box.			